

Harvest Weekend 2009: Oct. 2--4

Each October, Glen Brook hosts an intensive weekend program harvesting the camp's biodynamic gardens. Families are invited to stay at the Camp for two nights and participate in all aspects of Glen Brook's gardening and harvest programs: pulling potatoes from the ground, gathering pumpkins, making soups and pies, harvesting apples and making cider, and spreading compost for the next year's planting. The schedule is full, yet there is also ample time for exploring the out-of-doors, sitting by the wood stove in the Main House living room, or reading and relaxing.

Please keep in mind: Glen Brook staff lead certain activities for safety reasons, but supervision of children is the express responsibility of parents or guardians at all times during Harvest Weekend. Numerous dangerous areas and activities exist at the camp, including the barnyard, lakefront, kitchen, and even playing in the meadow.

Harvest Weekend is open to all ages, youth, adults and seniors. Lodging is in our rustic cabins and bunkrooms. All meals are provided from Friday supper to Sunday breakfast (a packed lunch is also provided on Sunday morning).

What to bring: pillows, sleeping bags (or linens and blankets); towels; and outdoor clothing such as walking or hiking shoes or boots, hats and gloves, and layers for cold weather.

Cost: $250 per family
